

Possibilities for Moving from Theory to Practice in Urban Schools

JEFFREY M.R. DUNCAN-ANDRADE
AND ERNEST MORRELL

PETER LANG

Contents

Preface ix

1 The Challenges and Opportunities of Urban Education 1

2 Contemporary Developers of Critical Pedagogy 23

3 Critical Pedagogy in an Urban High School English Classroom 49

4 What a Coach Can Teach a Teacher 69

5 Critical Pedagogy in a College Access Program for Students of Color
With assistance from Anthony Collatos 89

6 Youth Participatory Action Research as Critical Pedagogy 105

7 Pan-ethnic Studies 133

8 Critical Pedagogy in an Age of Standards 157

9 Toward a Grounded Theory of Praxis 171

References 193

Index 205

About the Authors 225