Sustainable Marketing

Barry Emery

ALWAYS LEARNING

PEARSON

Sustainable Marketing

Visit the Sustainable Marketing Companion Website at www.pearsoned.co.uk/emery to find valuable student learning material including:

- Multiple choice questions to test your understanding
- Weblinks to relevant, specific internet resources to facilitate in-depth independent research
- Links to video material of key Sustainable Marketing campaigns.
- Additional examples and case studies

Emery: Sustainable Marketing

Table of Contents

Front Cover
Title Page
Copyright Page
Contents
Preface
Acknowledgements
Guided Tour
Part 1 Marketing for sustainability: people, planet, prosperity
- 1 Sustainable marketing
  - Chapter objectives
  - Dilemma part 1: Behaving responsibly
  - Sustainable marketing
    - Conventional marketing revisited
    - Moves in the right direction
    - Environmental marketing variants
    - The foundations of sustainable marketing
  - Defining the parameters of sustainable marketing
  - Summary
  - Case study: Hans Merensky: ahead of the times
  - Dilemma part 2: Behaving responsibly
  - References
- 2 The backdrop to sustainability
  - Chapter objectives
  - Dilemma part 1: Who decarbonises first - business?
  - The backdrop to sustainability
    - The habits of a lifetime

Pearson

Table of Contents

Business cannot be as usual

Approaches to sustainable development

Summary

Case study: Muji - less is more

Dilemma part 2: Who decarbonises first - the consumer?

References

Part 2 Understanding the nature of consumption and consumer behaviour

3 Understanding attitudes towards consumption and sustainability

Chapter objectives

Dilemma part 1: Is there a sustainability crunch?

Understanding attitudes towards consumption and sustainability

The nature of consumption

When attitudes do not match behaviour

The risk of sustainability

A citizen's act of faith

Summary

Case study: 360 Vodka

Dilemma part 2: Is there a sustainability crunch?

References

4 The evolution of sustainable segmentation

Chapter objectives

Dilemma part 1: Back to nature?

The evolution of sustainable segmentation

The evolution of human needs

Understanding segmentation for sustainability

Towards a better understanding - Defra pro-environmental behaviours 2008

Simplicity versus materialism

Summary

Case study: Time to think outside the bottle

Dilemma part 2: Nature makes a comeback

References

Table of Contents

Part 3 Marketing as an agent of change

5 Motivating behavioural change

Chapter objectives

Dilemma part 1: The bottom line

Motivating behavioural change

The challenges beyond the threshold

Changing norms of behaviour

A framework for change

Summary

Case study: The carrot, the stick and the plastic bag

Dilemma part 2: The bottom line

References

6 Reconciling product sustainability

Chapter objectives

Dilemma part 1: The slow rise of ethical fashion

Reconciling product sustainability

Designing the sustainable product

Packaging the sustainable product

Summary

Case study: Recycling (mis)behaviours

Dilemma part 2: The slow rise of ethical fashion

References

7 Addressing supply chain sustainability

Chapter objectives

Dilemma part 1: The certification of sustainability

Addressing supply chain sustainability

Sustainable procurement

Impacts along the supply chain

Forget global, act local

Summary

Case study: Source4Style

Dilemma part 2: The certification of sustainability

Table of Contents

References

8 Communicating sustainability

Chapter objectives

Dilemma part 1: Aga and a sustainable future

Communicating sustainability

Getting it wrong

Getting it right

Labelling

Summary

Case study: Getting it right and wrong at the same time

Dilemma part 2: Aga and a sustainable future

References

Part 4 Implementation

9 Managing sustainable change

Chapter objectives

Dilemma part 1: Bad for business, good for you

Managing sustainable change

The people corner

The business corner

The government corner

Towards a framework for consolidated change

Summary

Case study: Adnams - sustainable brewing for the 21st century

Dilemma part 2: Good for business, bad for you

References

10 The future for sustainability: Raising the game, changing the game

Chapter objectives

Dilemma part 1: Nine billion sustainable lifestyles

Raising the game, changing the game

Not nice at all

Over the next decade

Summary

Table of Contents

Case study: Unilever and global sustainability

Dilemma part 2: One sustainable lifestyle

Epilogue

- A decade of reluctant or whole-hearted engagement?
- Low- and zero-carbon (LZC) homes
- Electric cars
- The rise of the nimby
- Marketing and sustainability â ideal partners
- Employment opportunities

References

Index

Back Cover